

June 27

Csillawear Moves to Congress

Csillawear is a line of flowy feminine fashions originally from New York, being brought to Austin by the founder herself, Csilla Souigy. To celebrate a move to a store front on Congress, Austin's elite came to check out the new shop and try on new stock. The line is quite beautiful- every piece is designed with a real woman's body in mind, and the fabrics are forgiving and elegant. It was a fun event filled with happy people, and some fashionable ones too! You can see more of her products on her website: Csillawear.

Posted 27th June 2012 by Corbin Chase
Labels: Austin Fashion Events Stores We Love